Dear Brett,

I can confirm that the Institute of School Business Leadership (ISBL) supports the following qualifications

- City and Guilds Level 4 Diploma for School Business Managers
- City and Guilds Level 5 Diploma for School Business Leaders

These qualifications provide the knowledge and skills required to be effective in a management role within a school at either level 4 or level 5. These qualifications have been developed in cooperation with ISBL, formerly the National Association of School Business Management (NASBM); and are linked to the NASBM Professional Standards.

We will deliver these qualifications to support the development of aspiring and current school business professionals.

Yours sincerely

Stephen Morales
Chief Executive Officer
